Broward County Commission, District 2

Fort Lauderdale, FL 33301

Dear Commissioner Jacobs:

At the Community Relations Council meeting on Monday, August 17, 2009, the idea was presented to name/rename the Broward County Family Success Center in honor of the late Mrs. Annie L. Weaver. The Family Success Center is located at 2011 Esther Rolle Avenue (Northwest Third Avenue), Pompano Beach, FL

Since that time, a committee was formed and meetings were held to garner the support of several community homeowners associations, Mrs. Weaver's church, and community groups. We have enclosed the support letters from these various groups.

Annie L. Weaver was a longtime resident of Pompano Beach and was very active in the community. She was a graduate of Blanche Ely High School, Class of 1956, and worked tirelessly to ensure that residents of Broward County most in need in were afforded adequate health care.

Naming/Renaming the facility to the Annie L. Weaver Health Center would recognize and honor her legacy. We believe this is a worthy project and hope you, and the other County Commissioners, would honor our request.

On behalf of our Committee, thank you for the County's support of this endeavor. If there are any questions, you may contact me at 9594-942-8063

Sincerely,

Marguerite Luster
Committee Spokesperson

"For as long as there has been culture, people have placed a meaning by naming every event they have encountered, be it the birth of a child, climatic conditions, initiation rites, battles, death or any other event that that seems vital to their daily existence. It has been a way of giving life meaning, a way of claiming territory, a way of honoring leaders, a way of giving direction or location, a way of celebrating important events and mourning disastrous events." - South African Geographical Names Council (SAGNC)
