BROWARD COUNTY FLORIDA INCORPORATED

Post Office Box 611605

April 20, 2010

I, Robert Holmes, President of Morehouse College Alumni Chapter of Broward County, Inc, is in full support of the efforts of the Committee to rename the Family Success Center located at 2011 Esther Rolle Avenue (NW Third Avenue), in the City of Pompano Beach, Florida to the Annie L. Weaver Health Center. We further agree that the renaming of this County owned building is appropriate. Annie L. Weaver was a Pompano Beach activist and humanitarian who dedicated much of her life working tirelessly to help ensure that the residents of Broward County had access to adequate healthcare.

The naming and renaming of streets and other public places is recognized as being an integral part of giving honor. This includes, but is not limited to the creation of places that residents and users can relate to and take pride in. Therefore, we believe the renaming of the building to the Annie L. Weaver Health Center is the right thing to do because it is a way of etching into our community's history the numerous contributions and accomplishments Mrs. Weaver has made in the area of healthcare.

Please find attached the motion made in support of this effort. If you have questions or need additional information, you may reach me at 954-943-7485 or e-mail rholmes1577@att.net.

Respectfully Submitted ,

Robert Holmes, President

" For as long as there has been culture, people have placed a meaning by naming every event they have encountered, be it the birth of a child, climatic conditions, invitation rites, battles, deaths, or any other event that seems vital to their daily existence. It has been a way of giving life meaning, a way of claiming territory, a way of honoring leaders, a way of giving direction or location, a way of celebrating important events and mourning disastrous events.
