

This image was provide by FPL as an example of the type of solar canopy design and installation to be pursued for the community solar pilot project installation at the Young at Art Museum and Broward County Library.