The proposed artwork, Dancin', will consist of five 14' tall stainless steel dancing figures to be installed in clusters at the Lauderhill Transit Center.

Mr. Kornfeld's design will vary for each figure reflecting the diversity of the community and showing a variety of dance poses expressing joy, ecstasy, elation, triumph, and euphoria. The dancing figures will be made of 6"x 6" stainless steel square tubes and will be lighted at night. The proposed designs may slightly vary based on number of factors, including community input, engineering issues and relevant approval requirements by government agencies.
